

URDU LITERARY SOCIETY

Urdu literary society has heightened consciousness in Urdu literature.

It traces the evolution of new trends , the dawn of new styles and concerns.

It illustrates how the literary canon is changing and re-inventing itself.

Aims and objectives

To provide a platform through multiple events, talks, sessions and discussions where the society can revamp the lost interest in literature. Aspire to assist the young writers by providing them an informal space such as zauq and many other writers.

Providing place to grow and polish writing skills. Have fun along with work. To initiate, spark, and facilitate debate within the student body. To inculcate among students a flair for the language and enhance their literary skills.

To induce reading habit in students. To encourage students to become orators and display their intellectual, independent thinking skills and imbibe a sense of confidence.
